MY WALDEN GREEN STORY

"I send my kids to Walden Green Montessori for many reasons. First, I wanted an alternative to traditional education. I like that Montessori education is a hands-on learning experience, everything from math to language is taught using 'works' that kids master on their own. When you observe a classroom at Walden Green you will see kids actively learning without a teacher standing at the front of the room and kids sitting at desks. Secondly, I like that our kids are not bringing tons of homework home and do not routinely take tests. On average, our kids maybe spend one hour a week on homework. As a parent, I love this. We have time to spend enjoying our kids at home, not drilling them to memorize facts and doing homework every night. Several big projects a year do come home and we enjoy working on these projects with our kids. When our kids do take 'standardized tests' they are placing above grade level. Lastly, we love the culture of the school. Walden Green kids are confident in who they are, the atmosphere is warm and welcoming, and the teachers and director are passionate about teaching our children to reach their highest potential."
